Part B for September 1947

SUBJECT

Amendments of the Acts and Notifications that apply to the retroceded Area of the Cocos Islands.

GB

Retrocession.

The following are some of the modifications necessary in some of the Acts and notifications that will apply to the retroceded area.

(1) Under the Police law applicable to the retroceded area, the administration of the Police force is vested in the Commissioner of Police. For the sake of uniformity and coordination, this police force is also to be under the general administration of the I.G. of Police in Mysore. It is therefore necessary to amend a few of the sections in the Police law to empower the I.G. of Police in this respect.

(2) Under section 83 A of the Municipal Law applicable to the retroceded area, certain areas therein have been notified as reserved areas in which buildings shall not be erected or reerected without the permission of the Resident. Till now the Collector was appointed as an Assistant to the Resident for this purpose and he was granting permissions under this section for building, etc. As there will be a large number of applications in this connection, it will be difficult for the Government to deal with all these applications. It is proposed that this section may be amended empowering the Government to delegate authority to the Collector or other officer and to allow appeal to the Government from the orders of such authority.

(3) Under (a) the Petroleum Rules, (b) the Calcium Carbide Rules, (c) the Explosives Rules, (d) the Poisons Rules, (e) the Places of Public Resort Act, (f) the Cinematograph Act, the Commissioner of Police had been appointed as the authority for the grant of permission, licence, etc. It is desirable to confer this power hereafter on the District Magistrate.

(4) Under the Civil Motorcars Control Order, and the Commercially Imported Transport Motor Vehicles Control Order, the Commissioner of Police was the Controller. The District Magistrate may be appointed as Controller in respect of these matters also.

(5) Under the Factories Act, the Superintendant of Excise was the Inspector of Factories till now. Hereafter the Inspector of Factories and Boilers, Bangalore City, may be appointed Inspector of Factories.

(6) Under the Indian Christian Marriage Act, the Superintendent of Excise was the Registrar. Some other officer who is a christian has to be appointed as the Registrar.

(7) Under the Civil Marriage Act, 1872, the Superintendent of Excise was the Marriage Registrar. It is proposed that the person who is assistant to the Collector may be appointed as the Marriage Registrar.

(8) Under the Stamp Act, the Personal Assistant to the Collector may be empowered under some of the routine sections.

(9) Under the Registration Act, the Collector may be appointed the Registrar and the Inspector of Registration in Mysore as the Inspector of Registration for the retroceded area.

(10) Under the Arms Rules, the Superintendant of Police had been empowered to grant licenses, etc. It is desirable that this power is revested in the District Magistrate as required by the Arms Rules.

(11) The Personal Assistant to the Collector may be authorised to sign pay, contingent and other bills and cheques of his office and also other offices under the Civil Account Code.

(12) Under Sections 3,4,6 and 12 of the Retrocession Transitional Provisons Act, courts and authorities of competent jurisdiction have to be notified. The existing courts notified under the Civil and Criminal Procedure Codes and the authorities under the Income-tax and the Excess Profits Tax Acts may be re-notified.
